Good Morning. I now see the comma confusion. I think this is the first example I ever had of needing the Oxford comma. I may now use it moving forward. The old dog has to learn a new trick. How about the two spaces after a sentence. Do you do that? I still do. Even with the comma issue, you should know that you are involved extensively throughout.

See below for the Eric Daly version of what I wrote.

Good Afternoon Everyone:

Did all y'all (term of endearment referencing Lyndsey Jean) enjoy your break from me? No real emails or lists. Sorry, I have to start things back up again. I know I have to discuss some topics individually with most of you and then we need to come together to formulate a plan for upcoming assessment activities as well as a return to removal (You are the main person I need to talk with to initiate how we approach the assessment).

The tentative travel plans I submitted for the Niagara County Sites (Niagara Falls Boulevard and Holy Trinity Cemetery) are below. It is very difficult to give exact dates at this point. I'm hoping more will be cleared up after April and we have a better idea of the budget. I had to do this for my management. Put out dates for budgeting

Niagara Falls Boulevard and Holy Trinity Cemetery assessment activities:

Two weeks in May. Sunday (Travel day) through the next weeks Saturday (Travel day). This will most likely be May 7th through 20th.

Contractors in the field will be Weston ID/IQ. I would oversee the activities as well as Pete depending on his availability. Establishing that Weston would be needed and what OSCs would be needed. It is assumed that ERT will be at the site or work remotely depending on their SPECIAL treatment, schedule and high maintenance needs ;) .

Niagara Falls Boulevard Removal Action

At the end of May or in the beginning of June we hope to start back up with the Niagara Falls Boulevard site removal activities. Tentatively we can put in for two weeks straight for me starting on May 29-June 10, followed by a week for Carl Pellegrino starting June 11-17 and then another two weeks for me starting June 18 through June 30. Again, depending on Pete's availability he may be able to supplement during the time ranges. The first phase may be GES personnel and some equipment to dispose of the remaining material on-site. Then hopefully, we can start the excavation of the parking lot in front of and around the businesses. Frank, we will need to discuss the different financial estimates to hand in to management. Management requested this and I have to estimate with Frank on the monies needed. Again, I would expect you to be there when your schedule allows and/or it is critical.

Holy Trinity Cemetery Removal Action

Lyndsey, Pete, and I will start collaborating on the HTC action memo based on the NFB action memo and the new assessment data we receive from the assessment (All three of us. I will take the first stab at it to do the grunt work and get it close to the NFB Action Memo with site specifics highlighted to fill in. Also note that I included having the new assessment data to finalize action memo). The sooner we get this out of our hands the better. Once that is submitted, hopefully there is some funding to start addressing the removal of the material this year.

I will send out a schedule tomorrow for us to work with.

Thanks
